REGIONALOGUE

JONATHAN DAYTON
REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL
SPRINGFIELD, NEW JERSEY

Jonathan Dayton Regional High School
Library

FOREWORD

The six towns comprising the Regional district are united into one great community by our school. Regional High School is the hub about which teen-age activities in these towns revolve, and like the spokes of a wheel the roads radiate out from Regional to all of her districts. Down these roads come Regional students to attend classes, sporting events, dances and to participate in numerous other activities here at Regional. When the day is done they return over these same roads to their separate towns. As far as the students of our school are concerned, it can truly be said that all roads lead to Regional.

Getting acquainted with the main roads that lead to Regional has been the primary business of this year's Freshmen, who have been kept busy learning bus schedules and routes, getting to know their classmates from other towns, and — of course — finding their way around their new school. After they felt that they knew each other well enough, the Freshmen elected the following officers: Jules Madey, President; Josephine Rica, Vice-President; Billy Jo Hershey, Secretary; and Nancy Anderson, Treasurer. Advisers were Miss Jean Elliot, and Mr. Charles Sensale.

A Typical Day in Regional High School

Of what does a day in Regional consist? After all of the students have arrived within the walls, one finds a variety of affairs occurring: not only the important aspects of the day — such as the social activities, school work, and sports events — but the little details that often go by unnoticed. Let's take a walk through Regional's halls, peek into a few corners and classrooms and get an intimate view of our school.

"Say aaaaaah!" Dr. Kemche, school physician, examines a student in the Regional health office.

"First of the day's interviews." A student waits to see her counsellor in the Guidance Office.

"It is more blessed to give . . ." Ag boys packing Christmas food parcels under the direction of Mr. A. LaSota.

"The specific heat of aluminum is . . ." Mr. Hohn conducts experiment in Physics lab.

"They sink the shaft here . . ."
Mr. Fane's second period Chem class.

"asdgf; lkjhj asdgf; lkjhj asdgf; lkjhj." Mrs. Hahn helps some commercial students master the techniques of typing.

"Future Carpenters of America."
Wood shop includes a variety of activities.

"The tower stretching to the sky . . ." When classes get a little dull, students in the new part of the building can always gain inspiration from a famous Springfield landmark.

"At ease, men!!!" Mr. Kropnicki in a typical pose.

"He's in conference right now; I don't know when he'll be free." Miss Soucek, Dr. Booth's secretary, answers a frequently-asked question.

"... that's not the way I heard it." Faculty members relaxing in teachers' room during third lunch.

"Is this what you mean, Mrs. Latzer?" Dramatics class in preparation for the Christmas assembly.

LEARN BY DOING

"Everything — including the kitchen sink!" Miss Ulbrich directs a variety of student activities in the home-management room.

"Well done." Miss Smalluck gives some constructive criticism to students in an arts and crafts course.

"Never mind the ad-libbing." The cast of the Senior Play was thankful for the stage in Room 16, which is used for speech and dramatics.

THE PAST

"From out of the past come the oldtime bathers." A scene from the senior history assembly.

"Bird's eye view." Faculty members get this view of the gym from the men teachers' room.

"Home again, home again . . ." The bus caravan prepares to leave at 3:00 p.m.

REGIONALOGUE CLUB

This year's Regionalogue staff — all of whom were inexperienced in yearbook work back in September — have learned a great deal about pictorial journalism and have had fun doing so. They have spent much of their time and energy on this book so that the students and teachers of Regional may keep vivid their memories of the Class of 1955 and of the 1954-55 school year.

Music Groups

Anyone who attended a music concert at Regional this year was delightfully entertained by the music groups under the capable direction of Miss Mildred Midkiff. Each group, selectively chosen, goes through extensive practice for each performance. The Ensemble is the group that represents Regional at various choral festivals, P.T.A. meetings, church meetings, and other functions. The effort that has gone into the preparation of each performance is well worth the reward of lasting memories and self-satisfaction which each member of the groups feels.

Hindered by a lack of experience, and playing a long list of good teams, Regional's football squad won only one game — a convincing 20-0 victory over Hillside — and lost eight. The many promising sophomores and juniors should make for a more successful season next year. The capable coaching staff was directed this year by Mr. John Brown.

° County Tournament

* State Tournament

Coach DeRosa gives the squad a few pointers.

This year's basketball team won the Group III championship in North Jersey, Section II and was runner-up to Cliffside Park for state-wide honors. Less successful in Union County Tournament, however, they lost in the first round. Hampered by illness late in the season, the team wound up its regular slate with a 10-8 record, but added four more wins and two losses in tournament play.

G.A.A.

More girls participated in Girls' Athletic Association activities this year than any other year in Regional's history. The girls played in inter-scholastic competition with Union, Millburn and Cranford, and fared well. Their assembly program transported us to "Storyland" and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.
